Interview

- What are your main responsibilities as a Certified Nursing Assistant?
  - To take care of my patients
  - Make sure they are well fed, bathed, taken their medication, turned (if dealing with a bed ridden)
  - Making sure the patient is getting well and healthy is your overall priority in my eyes

- What do you like most about your work?
  - The satisfaction of the patient being happy and appreciative of all the work you’ve done for them.

- What do you least about your work?
  - When you have those certain stubborn patients that any and everything you do to help them they are never satisfied.

- What are some common career paths in this field?
  - Registered Nurse, Licensed Practical Nurse, Nurse Practitioner, Doctor, pediatric nurse, and those are just a few of the many in the field

- What kind of accomplishments tend to be valued and rewarded in this field?
  - Saving a life, going out your way for any and anybody and just being that caring, compassionate, and selfless human being

- What related fields do you think I should look into?
  - Physician’s Assistant, Pediatrician, and Nursing Paralegal

- How did you become interested in this field?
  - It was a way of me giving back and it was not as if I was going to work it's like doing something you're passionate about to make you and the other people happy.

- When did you know that this is the career you wanted to have for the rest of your life?
  - The moment I went to high school. I had the opportunity to intern at a hospital and shadow nurses and since then I fell in love with what they do and said this is something I want to do.

- What is your motivation to keep going in your line of work?
  - When I wake up every morning I know everyday is a different journey and a different opportunity to help others.
Summary
In life, you have to have a goal and that was my goal. A wise man once said choose a job you love you will never work a day in your life again. Find your purpose, find your happiness, and find you. Throughout, my career I've realized being nice to others makes me more humble. Everyday, I wake up and I know I'm going to achieve another goal to help and care for another patient it brings joy to my heart. To conclude, Success is not an accident. It is hard work, perseverance, dedication, and most of all love what you are doing.